

8 ½ Years of Re-Orders? Find Out How!

Custom mints are an incredibly cost-effective way for your customers to build their brand and business. From helping to build awareness of social media channels to promoting a new product or service, custom mints are a great marketing vehicle because of their low cost, high impact nature. Not sure what industries mints would be a good fit for? Read some of our customer reviews to see where they have found success with custom mints!

"I have my own makeup studio and my clients love these. It's a nice touch to say thank you to your clients. They appreciate it."

"Great for the desk of a receptionist, we have these in all of our offices. Patients love them, often asking if they can take 1-2 more."

"My clients are always aware when I run out of these. I own a massage and skincare business and my clients always look forward to getting these mints when they come in."

Custom mints are a great way for your customers to thank their clients, while also advertising their business at the same time. From the medical to the cosmetic field and everything in between, mints are the perfect 'end of service' treat that customers will always appreciate.

As the above testimonials show, customers are not only pleased with their custom mint orders, they also come back for more! In popular industries, such as banking, healthcare and salons, the reorder rate is near 70%! Even better, a recent study has found the average custom mint account purchases for 8 ½ years...that's a lot of reorders!
